

We bought a foreclosed home in October 2010, and hired Mike Gebel, owner of Gebco Construction, to do the remodel for this much abused and neglected property. Mike recognized and understood our vision for our future home, and guided us through every phase. Mike designed the facade over our range and we think it is beautiful. He salvaged what he could, and revised, improved or constructed what he needed to. He worked within our budget, connecting us to flooring, tile, stone, appliance, cabinet, and paint specialists, who were savvy in current designs and available materials and products. We were offered quality services and competitive pricing. It is said that a General Contractor is only as good as his crew and the sub contractors he uses. We were impressed with the skill and professionalism of his employees and the subs he sent our way. They were knowledgeable, timely and courteous.

Thank you Mike and the rest of the Gebco team, for a quality job. Your attention to craftsmanship and detail is present in every area of our home.
